Rule on Contest Votes.

After the roll call was complete and before it was efficially announced, chairman Root ruled upon a point of order of governor Hadley that a contested delegate could not vote upon his own right to his seat, but could vote on other identical cases. Otherwise, he said, a minority could control a convention by bringing a sufficient number of contests.

The ruling was received with applause from the Taft faction.

The result of the vote was then officially announced.

Watson Motion Adopted.

The Watson motion, by which the Hadley resolution was referred to the credentials committee, was then adopted by a viva voce vote without division.
